It was a Lordling's daughter The fairest one of three That liked of her Mas - ter as well as well might be, 'Till looking on an Englishman the fairest eye could see, Her fancy fell a turning, Her fancy fell a turning.
Sym:

Long was the Combat doubtful
That love with love did fight:
To leave the Master loveleſs, or kill the gallant Knight;
To put in practice either,
Alas! it was a spite
Unto the silly Damsel.

3

But one must be refused,
More mickle was the pain?
That nothing could be used, to turn them both again:
For of the two the trusty Knight
Was wounded with disdain
Alas! she could not help it.
